

A place for the soul

Far from the everyday hustle, one can find there refuge and spiritual silence for a few moments. This place is the Vladiceni monastery, located in the municipality Tomesti, two kilometers away from Iasi. Here, everyone can experience the beauty and peace of memorable spaces.

The monastery is, however, little known to tourists and even the citizens of Iasi. Historically attested in 1415, the monastery was destroyed by the representatives of the communist regime.

Unless the return to spiritual roots, the monastery offers to the visitors a precious treasure. The silver reliquary that we find inside these pilgrims' relics of Saint John the Evangelist and Saint Mina, helps find stolen objects.

If you happen to be in Iasi or have in mind to come here, do not hesitate to have a visit in the heart of the Vladiceni monastery!

Unfortunately, in the nearby area, the landscape is marred by irresponsible waste that tourists leave. What shall we do about this? How shall we fix it? Maybe there should be put up some warning signs: "You have found the place clean, make sure to leave it as you've found it!!" "Do not leave waste, be responsible!" And if that is not enough, we, the young people should occasionally go to clean and give an example!

In conclusion, should you be in Iasi, go to the Vladiceni monastery and in the meantime, make sure to keep the environment clean when you are camping in the surrounding area!
